

The Missing Link

- Modern data estates provide visibility into the business, but not guidance on what actions to take next
- Operational workflows lack embedded intelligence to proactively recommend, prioritize, and automate actions
- Decision-making remains inconsistent across teams due to the absence of a governed intelligence layer
- Limited governance and traceability make it difficult to scale AI confidently across enterprise workflows

Realize AI

RealizeAI moves enterprises from isolated AI initiatives to production-scale intelligence, enabling faster decisions, execution, and measurable value.

Success Story

A global BFSI leader wanted to move beyond reporting and enable real-time fraud decisioning. Hoonartek deployed a RealizeAI-powered Fraud Intelligence Agent that combined governed enterprise data with natural-language interactions to surface actionable fraud insights instantly. By embedding AI directly into investigative workflows, the organization reduced investigation time by 50%, accelerated fraud detection, and enabled self-service analytics for risk and compliance teams.
